WELCOME TO THE

TLC AT APSA

Rethink, Restructure, Reconnect: Teaching Political Science in a Post-Pandemic Era

Teaching & Learning Conference at the 2022 APSA Annual Meeting

Montréal, Québec, Canada

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 2022
The fifth TLC at APSA is a full-day event that seeks to promote the scholarship of teaching and learning and enhance the role of teaching in the discipline of political science.

This year's conference theme is “Rethink, Restructure, and Reconnect: Teaching Political Science in a Post-Pandemic Era” and features a morning of engaging workshops and an afternoon of four tracks focused on Civic Engagement Education, Simulations & Games, Promoting Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, and Teaching Research, Writing, and Information Literacy.

8:00 a.m. WELCOME BREAKFAST

Please join us for breakfast and a brief welcome from the TLC at APSA Program Committee
Westin Montréal AB

8:30 a.m. WORKSHOPS

Doing the Doing: Equity and Access in the Political Science Classroom
Westin Montréal C

DiploSim: A Simulation Design Workshop
Westin Montréal D

How to Create a Safe & Challenging Democratic Learning Environment in Any Course
Westin St. Antoine A

Engaging Students Through Political Science Honors Societies and Clubs
Westin St. Antoine B

9:30 a.m. Break

10:00 a.m. WORKSHOPS

Antiracist Pedagogy: Foundational Principles in Practice across the Discipline
Westin Montréal C

Designing Role-Playing Simulations for Remote and Hybrid Classrooms
Westin Montréal D

Making an Impact Close to Home: Engaging Students in Local Government
Westin St. Antoine A

Teaching Experimental Political Science: Practical Advice
Westin St. Antoine B

#TLCATAPSA
12:00 p.m.  PLENARY & LUNCHEON

Westin Montréal AB

“Radical Empathy in the Classroom: Going Beyond Inclusion”

Terri Givens, Professor of Political Science at McGill University and the Founder of Brighter Professional Development

Dr. Givens will be available to sign copies of her book, Radical Empathy, after her keynote. Her book will be available to purchase for CAN$10 (cash only).

1:30 p.m.  Break

2:00 p.m.  TRACK PANELS I

Track 1: Promoting Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the Classroom
Teaching LGBTQ Politics: Theory, Praxis, and Intersectionality, moderated by Emmanuel Balogun, Skidmore College
Westin Montréal C

Track 2: Simulations & Games
Simulating Political Realities in the Classroom, moderated by Kevin Anderson, Eastern Illinois University
Westin Montréal D

Track 3: Civic Engagement
Opportunities, Challenges, and Responsibilities of Community-Engaged Coursework, moderated by Kevin G. Lorentz II, Saginaw Valley State University
Westin St. Antoine A

Track 4: Teaching Research, Writing, and Information Literacy
Teaching Research, Writing, and Information Literacy: Building a Cohesive Major, moderated by Natasha T. Duncan, Purdue University
Westin St. Antoine B

To foster community-building and conversation, we encourage attendees to stay with the same track for the afternoon panel sessions.

3:30 p.m.  Break
4:00 p.m. TRACK PANELS II

Track 1: Promoting Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the Classroom
Promoting Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the Classroom, moderated by Emmanuel Balogun, Skidmore College
Westin Montréal C

Track 2: Simulations & Games
Simulations and Games as Teaching Tools, moderated by Kevin Anderson, Eastern Illinois University
Westin Montréal D

Track 3: Civic Engagement
Assessing Student Perceptions of Skill Building in Coursework, moderated by Kevin G. Lorentz II, Saginaw Valley State University
Westin St. Antoine A

Track 4: Teaching Research, Writing, and Information Literacy
Teaching Research, Writing, and Information Literacy: Classroom Approaches, moderated by Natasha T. Duncan, Purdue University
Westin St. Antoine B

5:30 p.m. RECEPTION

Westin Montréal AB

Many thanks to the Political Science Education Section for co-sponsoring this year’s TLC at APSA reception.

Special Thanks to the TLC At APSA Program Committee:

- Julio F. Carrión, University of Delaware (co-chair)
- Allison Rank, SUNY-Oswego (co-chair)
- Kevin Anderson, Eastern Illinois University (track moderator for Simulations and Games)
- Emmanuel Balogun, Skidmore College (track moderator for Promoting Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the Classroom)
- Natasha Duncan, Purdue University (track moderator for Teaching Research, Writing, and Information Literacy)
- Taiyi Sun, Christopher Newport University (track moderator for Civic Engagement)
Introducing APSA Educate – A Library for Political Science Teaching and Learning Resources

APSA Educate provides a centralized space to share and access teaching materials from syllabi to simulations.

The website is free to access and features a strong search function and easy submission form. Contributing a resource takes less than ten minutes!

PLATFORM BENEFITS

- Access a broad range of high-quality political science teaching and learning materials including syllabi, in-class activities, simulations, writing assignments, civic engagement tools, and more!

- Share your teaching materials and innovations with colleagues.

- Save favorite resources to your personal teaching resource library.

- Ask questions, discuss modifications to and experience with resources via comments.

- Learn from and share with colleagues through our Faculty Café Blog – featuring member-driven conversations around innovations, challenges, and best practices in political science education.

Visit educate.apsanet.org to learn more.
Submit Proposals for the 2023 APSA Teaching & Learning Conference

Re-energizing Political Science Education: Innovations and New Opportunities

Baltimore, MD | February 10–12

We invite attendees to the American Political Science Association’s 16th Teaching & Learning Conference (TLC) on “Re-Energizing Political Science Education: Innovations and New Opportunities.” The conference will take place February 10-12, 2023, in Baltimore, Maryland.

Deadline to submit proposals: September 28, 2022

Visit connect.apsanet.org/tlc2023 to submit today!