

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS: 2024 Research Development Group for early-career scholars from Southeast Asia Application Deadline: Sunday, April 7

The American Political Science Association (APSA) and the Southeast Asian Politics Related Group (SEAPRG) are pleased to announce a Call for Applications from early-career scholars interested in attending the Southeast Asia Research Development Group (RDG) at the 2024 APSA Annual Meeting. The program offers an opportunity to advance research towards publication, participate in the annual meeting, and develop scholarly networks with colleagues.

The 2024 APSA Annual Meeting will take place in Philadelphia, PA (USA) from September 4 - 8. Selected participants will attend a full-day seminar on Wednesday, September 4 to discuss and receive critical feedback on an article-length manuscript in progress. Papers will be circulated in advance to allow time for thorough reading. In addition to focused discussions on each paper, the seminar will address strategies and advice for publishing in peer-reviewed international journals and other professional development topics. Over the next several days, participants will attend panels of interest, including SEAREG-sponsored panels and meetings, and take part in the APSA Annual Meeting program. SEAPRG will assist participants in developing personalized schedules to promote linkages with different organized sections, related groups, and other scholars.

Participation in the Southeast Asia Research Development Group is open to early-career scholars whose research focuses on Southeast Asia and who are currently based in Asia (those whose primary institutional affiliation is outside of Asia are not eligible for this program). Up to six applicants will be selected. Participants will receive an APSA Travel Grant of up to $1,000 to support eligible travel and accommodation expenses.

Application Instructions

Applicants must be working on an article-length research project that is at a stage of development which would benefit from intense discussion and critique. All topics, subfields, and methodologies within political science will be considered. The manuscript should be intended for publication in a peer-reviewed academic journal (drafts which are intended for dissertation chapters or white papers will not be accepted). Research should not be an excerpt from an already completed work. Solo-authored papers are preferred.

Applications must be in English and include:

1. The completed online Application Form.
2. A detailed, recent Curriculum Vitae/resume.
3. A draft of the 5,000-8,000 word (including abstract, not including references) research manuscript that will be brought to the seminar for discussion.
4. A list of 2-3 scholars you would like to have discuss your paper

The deadline to submit an application is Sunday, April 7, 2024. Additional information can be found on the online application at <https://apsa.wufoo.com/forms/2024-asia-rdg/>. Selected applicants will be notified of their invitation within two weeks. Subsequently, selected fellows must apply for an APSA travel grant by the May deadline. For more information, contact asiaworkshops@apsanet.org.