

08:04:08 From Zachary Stickney : Dr. Nadia E. Brown

Purdue University
www.nadiaebrownphd.com

Prof. Robin Harper
York College, Cuny
www.york.cuny.edu/portal_college/rharper

08:22:48 From Carolyn Holmes : Kyle Rittenburg

08:30:45 From Sofia Ntaliou : can you please recommend some relevant bibliography for interpretive policy analysis?

08:30:59 From Guillermo Caballero : Co-sign this question

08:31:53 From Zachary Stickney : We will be sending a resource sheet shortly after the session, but Iâ€™ll post a few citations here as well during the discussion

08:32:57 From Sofia Ntaliou : thank you! :)

08:34:32 From Charles Turner : Also just FYI, we'll be posting resources to the IMM twitter and Facebook group!

twitter.com/interpretivemm

08:36:55 From Zachary Stickney : Schaffer, Frederic C. 2014. Ordinary language interviewing. In Dvora Yanow and Schwartz-Shea, eds., Interpretation and method, 183-93. Armonk, NY: ME Sharpe.

08:40:03 From Kerstin Tomiak : Or, was your donkey suicidal or brave?

08:40:22 From Nadia Brown : +1 Kerstin

08:42:50 From Guillermo Caballero : RIP to the donkeys

08:45:36 From Fred Schaffer : Correction, the Austin example is from his essay "A Plea for Excuses"

08:48:04 From Claire Ma : +1 on this question about triangulating when all our interviews are online

08:50:05 From Zachary Stickney : Fujii, Lee Ann. 2018. Interviewing in Social Science Research: A Relational Approach. New York: Routledge.

09:00:26 From Devon Cantwell : Relationships are so key!!

09:11:27 From Carolyn Holmes : We need to think so much more creatively about what data are. I hope that we can take that away from this experience of research under the pandemic.

09:12:36 From Candan Turkkan : but what if you don't even know they are lying?

09:12:43 From Zachary Stickney : Fujii, Lee Ann. 2010. Shades of truth and lies: Interpreting testimonies of war and violence. Journal of Peace Research 47 (2): 231-41.

09:12:54 From Laura von Allwörden : Exactly, great point! Thank you very much for sharing your research experiences today! I have been doing my first interviewing fieldwork for the past year for my Phd, and experienced similar situations via/because of zoom. Hearing how you all dealt with it definitely helps me in reflecting my fieldwork and how to go on for the next months! Have a good rest of the day, a good WE and a good rest of the workshop.

09:29:49 From Kerstin Tomiak : Gathertown, maybe?

09:30:31 From Fred Schaffer : Thank you Nadia and Robin, I learned so much from you. And thank you Peri and Dvora!

09:30:32 From Claire Ma : Thank you for this clinic! I look forward to this every time :)

09:30:33 From Kerstin Tomiak : Thank you!

09:30:36 From Karen Baird : Thanks to everyone! great clinic today.

09:30:36 From Dhana Hamal : Thank you!

09:30:46 From Tiina Hyyppä : Thank you!

09:30:47 From Szilvia Nagy : Thank you!

09:30:47 From Nadia Brown : Thank you for having me! This was a wonderful experience & a great community!

09:30:47 From Julia Radomski : Thanks everyone!

09:30:50 From Tara Chandra : Thank you!!

09:30:51 From Amalie Trangbæk : Thank you for this session!

09:30:52 From Sofia Ntaliou : thank you!

09:30:52 From Ane Bak : Thank you!

09:30:53 From Ana Carolina Nunes : Thank you for the organization of the clinic!

09:30:55 From Selin Yilmaz : thank you so much

09:30:56 From Hüsniye Yilmaz : thanks a lot

09:30:59 From Sara Hadley : Thank you everyone!